The technical engagement questionnaire, for learning institutions
Below are some questions about engagement in technology that learning institutions may benefit from by asking themselves.

Does your institution have any pain points with…
- Adding decentralized technology to learning programs?
- Providing extracurricular experiences to build beginner interest in technology?
- Broadcasting student technical achievement?

The Dream Scenario…
What would your university ideally look like with a solution to these pain points?

Maybe web10 can help. This is what web10 offers!
- We provide an app store for your institution to broadcast student technical achievement!
- We provide extracurriculars for institutions that get beginners to publish their first 3 apps!
- We teach decentralized concepts in the extracurricular!
